Friends of Aseema

FOA

LETTER FROM THE PRESIDENT

Dear Friends,

What a great first full year you have made it for Friends of Aseema!

This year began with local press coverage on our beginnings and our exclusive mission to support Aseema Charitable Trust. Aseema provides high-quality, value-based education and medical care to thousands of extremely marginalized slum children in Mumbai, and in a remote tribal region called Igatpuri.

In February, Board Member Robin Tom and I went to Mumbai to visit the schools run by Aseema. During our visit, we not only had the opportunity to strengthen connections with staff and leadership, but also spoke with Aseema students and alumni. You can find some of these videos on the testimonials page of our website.

We officially obtained our 501(c)(3) tax-exempt status from the IRS in March, affirming that donations may be tax deductible. On top of that, our creative and hardworking volunteer team began to grow our presence on social media to help broaden awareness efforts.

Then came COVID-19...

FOA

In Mumbai,

things grew dire. The Indian government, on short notice, ordered a lockdown to slow the viral spread, which cut off students from school meals and their families from daily wages. And, when they needed us most, I worried that our organization's efforts would be impaired by economic uncertainty and the inability to meet with donors.

But I needn't have worried because YOU helped Aseema distribute several rounds of emergency food rations to nearly 10,000 people!

How? We operate through a grantmaking process. Aseema makes grant requests that are reviewed by our independent board of directors. This means that, while we cannot take earmarked donations, it gives us a special strength: your donations address Aseema's greatest needs.

Running schools requires students, equipment, buildings, staff, and administration. We are able to provide financial support for items like smart phones for remote learning but also for teacher and staff salaries, classically difficult expenses to raise funds for but expenses that are vital.

Your influx of generosity toward year's end gave us a jumpstart on bolstering Aseema as they head into another year of uncertainties. Take a look below to see where your donations went. We hope you will be proud of your role in supporting Aseema's core functions.

Sincerely,
Christine Biancheria

DONATIONS SUPPORTED: COVID-19 RESPONSE

Beginning in March, a government-ordered lockdown closed schools and businesses. Many students rely on Aseema's mid-day meals for nutrition and now their families were unable to earn even their meager day-labor wages. Aseema immediately moved to master the logistics of distributing ration kits to its children and their families—it would not be an easy OR inexpensive task. While Aseema social workers first identified 600 people with the most urgent needs, they soon realized that all of the families would quickly go hungry. With its first round of food distribution, Aseema reached more than 9,980 people. Aseema has conducted four additional rounds of food distribution since then.

Special thank you to Raaghwari Loomba, Priyanka Chopra Jonas and Nick Jonas for raising awareness of our food distribution efforts on social media!

DONATIONS SUPPORTED: REMOTE LEARNING

"I was very excited to hear my teacher and my classmates on the WhatsApp group and was happy to start classes online. But I do miss learning with my friends in groups, which we used to do in school. But ... now I can do my homework whenever the phone is free as per my convenience. I can also watch the videos that the teacher sends again and again to understand the concepts. Still if I have doubts, my teachers are very kind, and they allow us to message or call them when we have doubts and they clear them."

PALI CHIMBAI MUNICIPAL SCHOOL

DONATIONS SUPPORTED: REMOTE LEARNING

Aseema broke new ground this year when it was rapidly forced to determine how to engage in distance learning when all of their children live in slum communities and rural Igatpuri. This required funds to support teachers and staff preparing to teach, distribute learning materials, and provide children with smart phones and data plans. Many teachers who needed to soon lead remote classes did not have laptops, nor did older students studying for the SSC tests, India's notoriously difficult school exit exams.

DONATIONS SUPPORTED: EDUCATION

In India, when a child finishes the 10th standard (roughly 10th grade), the child must take the SSC exams. It is difficult and can be life-determining. This year, when the results came in from the last round of exams, ALL of the Aseema students had passed!

This would be an achievement for any school but is all the more impressive because Aseema's students had been living all the while in extreme poverty.

DONATIONS SUPPORTED: TEACHERS & STAFF

Your donations supported salaries and supplies for Aseema staff and teachers, like Mamta, left, who was also one of the very first Aseema students in 1997. Today, she teaches preprimary students.

INAUGURAL EVENT: ART AUCTION

Room 13, Aseema's stunning art program, allows children to engage with their creativity, gain self-esteem, learn about art and artists from around the world, and produce amazing work.

This October, Friends of Aseema, in collaboration with Aseema Charitable Trust and Artpreneur, held their inaugural online art auction, "Beauty Without Boundaries 2020," featuring 21 original works of art by Aseema students.

We hope this will be the start of a new tradition!

Limited edition prints of the auctioned items—and more—are still available.

INAUGURAL EVENT: ART AUCTION

An amazing number of celebrities from India and beyond committed time to meet virtually with the highest bidders. Among them were:

- Joanne Rogers, the now late wife of the late Fred Rogers, the U.S.'s beloved children's TV personality
- Terry Virts, former commander of the International Space Station
- Nick Jonas, Golden Globe and Grammy-nominated singer and songwriter
- Priyanka Chopra Jonas, actor, producer and activist
- Kate Johnson, president of Microsoft U.S.
- Aamir Khan, famed Indian actor and producer
- Vanessa German, Pittsburgh-based multimedia artist
- Dr. Shashi Tharoor, former Undersecretary General to the United Nations and Indian M.P.

ANNE FRANK

Thank you for supporting Friends of Aseema in its first year. For us, Aseema is an inspiring model for change in which people of all backgrounds can come together to transform the lives of some of the world's poorest children. We look forward to growing as an organization and continuing to build relationships with supporters like you.
